

During this holiday season, we find ourselves reflecting on the incredible journey that has brought us all together. It is with immense gratitude and a heart full of joy that we gather once again to celebrate the annual Christmas event for Heart of Angels.

Heart of Angels has been a beacon of hope and love for many years, stemming from a deeply personal experience. It all began when my nephew, Michael, was diagnosed with Wilms tumor at the tender age of three. During the Thanksgiving holiday, our family spent most of our time at the hospital, anxiously awaiting Michael's surgery and praying for his recovery.

Miraculously, Michael pulled through, and we were blessed to bring home a healthy and vibrant little boy. This experience of gratitude and the realization of how fortunate we were to have him with us sparked a desire to give back to others facing similar challenges. And so, Heart of Angels was born. We started small, adopting 3 families and bringing holiday cheer to the hospital during the Christmas season. Never could we have imagined that this simple act of kindness would grow into the remarkable community it is today.

Now, Heart of Angels supports approximately 60 families, thanks to the dedication and selflessness of our incredible volunteers, colleagues, friends and family. Together, we have created a network of love, compassion, and support that extends far beyond the holiday season.

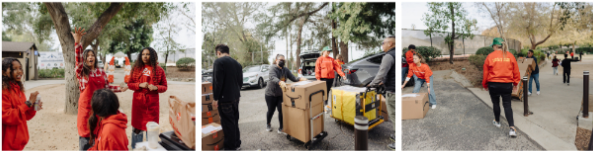

As we conclude our annual holiday event, let us remember the true spirit of the season. It is a time to spread joy, kindness, and hope to those who may be going through difficult times. Together, we can make a difference in the lives of these families and bring smiles to their faces during this special time of year.

With hearts of gratitude and love,
Michelle
